Complex Asbestos Defense Litigation

Conroy Simberg is widely recognized for its ability to manage complex asbestos defense litigation across the United States. The attorneys at our firm are well known for their skilled legal representation and ability to develop strong working relationships with national and local counsel.

Our attorneys have decades of experience defending asbestos litigation cases and represent a broad spectrum of clients, including:

- Suppliers
- Manufacturers
- Employers
- Insurance carriers
- Contractors
- Retail establishments
- Property owners operating across Florida and nationwide

Asbestos defense litigation can be a long and expensive process. These types of suits have the potential to seriously damage a company's reputation and position in the marketplace. When handling asbestos cases, our firm quickly assembles a team of professionals led by an experienced partner who oversees all activities associated with the case. This team works to identify all of the documents, reports and witnesses necessary to build a strong trial defense. By rapidly securing this core information, our firm is able to evaluate claims early on and determine the settlement prospects for each case.

An Integrated Approach

Conroy Simberg has the experience and resources necessary to handle complex asbestos litigation cases, including multidistrict litigation. A successful defense in these types of cases requires seasoned attorneys with a keen understanding of the complex legal and medical issues involved in asbestos litigation, as well as access to skilled medical and scientific experts capable of thoroughly investigating and analyzing claims.

When handling asbestos cases, our attorneys collaborate with lawyers and experienced nurse paralegals across the firm's 11 offices to design sophisticated legal approaches aimed at settling claims as rapidly as possible. This integrated approach allows our lawyers to effectively manage complex asbestos litigation by sharing resources, coordinating case reviews and drawing upon the well-respected experts in the industry to examine and evaluate asbestos claims. While we attempt to avoid lengthy trials, our opponents know that we are prepared to vigorously defend our clients at all stages of the litigation process. Our thorough investigation and analysis of each asbestos claim gives our clients greater leverage during settlement negotiations and lays the foundation for a successful defense should the case proceed to trial.

The attorneys at Conroy Simberg have defended and tried asbestos cases on behalf of clients located throughout the United States. Manufacturers, suppliers, retailers, insurance carriers and other types of businesses also regularly request our firm to serve as local counsel in large, complex asbestos litigation cases. Our legal professionals have extensive expertise in coordinating and streamlining legal representation across multiple cases and defendants.
