Our Hospitality Services

Conroy Simberg is a full-service civil defense law firm meeting the legal needs of the hospitality industry. We have established a strong reputation for delivering seasoned legal counsel to businesses, insurance companies and other organizations operating throughout the hospitality industry, including:

- Small and large restaurants, including national restaurant chains
- Hotels and resorts
- Condominiums
- Sports arenas and entertainment complexes, including vendors operating within these facilities
- Municipalities
- Parks and recreation facilities

The attorneys in our hospitality practice defend clients against all types of liability claims, ranging from slip and falls, food contamination and food-borne illnesses to negligent security and negligent hiring and training and retention of employees. We also counsel and advise hospitality clients on a range of legal matters impacting the industry, including employment law, workers' compensation, construction law, insurance coverage, general liability and commercial litigation issues.

Protecting Financial Assets and Business Reputations

It takes tremendous time and effort for restaurant owners, hotels and other organizations who operate within the hospitality industry to build a strong reputation. A businesses' image can be destroyed in an instant. The attorneys in our hospitality practice protect our clients' financial assets and business reputations, while maintaining the goodwill of their patrons.

When handling liability claims, the hospitality lawyers at Conroy Simberg are committed to resolving disputes as expeditiously as possible, limiting exposure and containing the costs associated with these types of actions. Our legal professionals attempt to settle claims through negotiation and other forms of alternative dispute resolution, including mediation and arbitration. When a case cannot be effectively resolved in this manner and litigation becomes necessary, we vigorously defend our clients at all stages of the litigation process. Our attorneys are skilled trial lawyers with decades of experience defending clients before federal and state courts, including all levels of appeals.

In every case that we handle, our hospitality practice team provides personalized service that is responsive to our clients' needs. We take the time to understand our clients' unique issues and concerns and work directly with them to develop legal tactics and strategies that best meet their business and financial objectives. We respond to our clients' questions and strive to keep them apprised of all developments in their case.

Avoiding Liability Claims and Legal Disputes

At Conroy Simberg, we understand the importance of working with our clients to avoid liability claims and other types of legal disputes before they arise. The attorneys in our hospitality practice group and throughout our entire law firm take a proactive approach to advising and counseling businesses and individuals. We regularly offer educational seminars and programs and assist our clients in developing appropriate policies and procedures aimed at preventing future liability claims and litigation. Our attorneys also keep track of new and emerging laws and regulations to ensure that our hospitality industry clients are fully aware of legal developments that may impact their business operations.
