Insurance Fraud and Misrepresentation

Representing Insurance Companies in Fraudulent Insurance Claims

The attorneys at Conroy Simberg have extensive experience advising and representing insurance companies in the prevention, detection and prosecution of fraudulent insurance claims. We work with insurers to evaluate potential fraud and misrepresentation in all areas of insurance, including automobile, property, casualty, personal injury protection and workers' compensation. Our legal team is recognized throughout the insurance industry for its ability to deliver strategic legal advice and skilled representation to companies dealing with claims that may involve insurance fraud.

Assisting Insurers in all Types of Insurance Fraud Investigations

With decades of experience, our legal team advises and assists insurers in the investigation of claims involving insurance fraud and misrepresentation. Our attorneys are familiar with all types of insurance fraud and regularly counsel and represent clients on a diverse range of insurance fraud matters, including:

- Arson
- Staged auto accidents
- False or inflated property loss claims
- False or inflated personal injury claims
- False or inflated medical claims
- Misrepresentation or fraud in applications for insurance policies

Whether we are working with an insurer to investigate a personal injury, automobile accident, or property loss claim, the attorneys at Conroy Simberg are committed to providing personalized service and attention at all stages of the process.

When our clients suspect that an insurance claim may involve fraud, we become actively involved early on in the investigation, conducting Examinations Under Oath or sworn statements of the claimants and witnesses, and developing comprehensive and detailed reports for our clients. Then we identify and secure all of the documents and evidence necessary to thoroughly investigate the claim and reach a well-founded decision on how to best proceed in the claim.

Aggressively Litigating Insurance Fraud Cases

At Conroy Simberg we aim to avoid lengthy litigation and costly courtroom battles by negotiating optimal resolutions for our clients. Our insurance fraud and misrepresentation attorneys have extensive experience settling cases using alternative dispute resolution methods, including mediation and arbitration. In the event that a claim cannot be resolved using these processes, we are prepared for litigation. Our legal professionals are skilled trial and appellate attorneys with years of experience successfully representing clients at all levels of the federal and state trial court systems.

Conroy Simberg is proud of our reputation for providing sound advice and skilled legal representation to members of the insurance industry operating throughout Florida and across the country. Our legal team knows that insurance fraud costs the nation billions of dollars every year and we are committed to working with insurers to prevent, identify and prosecute fraudulent claims.
