Katherine L. Moran is a member of the firm's General Liability practice defending a broad range of insurance defense including first party property and premises liability. She joined Conroy Simberg with four years of first party property experience and has worked in both law firms and in-house. After earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and Classics at the University of Florida, Katherine then moved to New York where she earned a Juris Doctor from Hofstra University at the Maurice A. Deane School of Law.

Practice Areas:

- First Party Property & Coverage
- Premises Liability

Admitted to Practice:

- Florida, 2019

Education:

- Vermont Law School, LLM
- Hofstra University School of Law, Juris Doctor
- University of Florida, Bachelor of Arts

Representative Experience:

- 2024 –Katherine prevailed on a motion for judgment on the pleadings on a non-catastrophic homeowners claim in Hillsborough County where she argued the subject assignment of benefits attached as an exhibit to the complaint failed to comply with Sec. 627.7152 (2)(a)1. – 8., and as a result the instant action could not be maintained by the Plaintiff.
- 2023 – Katherine prevailed on a motion for summary judgment on a non-catastrophic homeowners claim in Pasco County where she argued the mold testing services provided by the Plaintiff were not covered by the applicable policy of insurance, and as a result coverage was not appropriate.
