Manufacturing

Serving the Legal Needs of the Manufacturing Industry

For more than 45 years, the attorneys at Conroy Simberg have proudly served the legal needs of businesses operating throughout the manufacturing industry. As one of the largest insurance defense firms in Florida, we have the skills and resources necessary to provide comprehensive legal representation to manufacturers throughout the state and across the country. The legal professionals at our firm have extensive experience handling a variety of products liability defense cases, including those involving:

- Medical devices and equipment
- Pharmaceuticals
- Automotive parts
- Trucking parts
- Restaurant equipment and furnishings
- Segway personal transporters
- Electronic monitoring devices
- Exercise equipment
- Bicycles
- Chemicals
- PVC and other types of piping materials
- Industrial mowers
- Utility trailers
- Heavy equipment
- Power tools

Claims involving dangerous and defective products can expose manufacturers and their insurance carriers to significant financial risks. These types of lawsuits can seriously disrupt a manufacturer's operations and damage important business relationships.

The legal team at our firm is committed to resolving product liability claims against members of the manufacturing industry as efficiently and economically as possible. We concentrate on developing strong relationships with our clients and familiarizing ourselves with their businesses and operations. Our attorneys thoroughly investigate all liability claims and work with our clients to develop approaches that best serve their legal, financial and business objectives.

Serving Manufacturing Clients

While the attorneys at Conroy Simberg are known for their ability to deliver high quality legal representation in complex product liability cases, our firm is well-positioned to successfully handle and resolve a wide variety of legal matters for the manufacturing industry, including:

- Employment law issues
- Workers' compensation actions
- Insurance coverage issues
- Intellectual property disputes
- Environmental claims
- Commercial litigation
- General liability and casualty claims
- Premises liability claims
- Property claims

With close to 130 attorneys practicing in Florida and Georgia, the legal professionals at Conroy Simberg work as a cohesive team across our firm's diverse practice groups and office locations. We routinely pool resources and collaborate on cases to formulate legal strategies and solutions that settle claims quickly and effectively. This depth of experience positions our firm to effectively counsel and defend manufacturing clients against the wide range of liability claims and legal disputes facing the manufacturing industry.

A Proactive Approach

We do not undervalue the importance of working with our clients to avoid liability claims and other types of legal disputes before they arise. Utilizing a proactive approach, we counsel businesses operating throughout the manufacturing industry. We offer educational seminars and programs for our clients and regularly assist manufacturers in developing and revising technical manuals and instructional materials for their products. Our attorneys also keep track of new and emerging laws and regulations to ensure that our manufacturing clients are fully aware of important legal developments.