

In order to better serve the diverse legal needs of businesses, organizations and professionals throughout the Miami area, Conroy Simberg opened its Miami office in 1998. The firm's Miami office is conveniently located in the heart of South Miami, between downtown and the Florida Keys.

The legal team in the Miami office serves as an integral part of our firm's state-wide practice, collaborating with and sharing resources across our 11 offices to ensure that our clients receive the high quality legal services that they have come to know and expect.

While hospitality and tourism are the principal industries associated with the area, Miami also serves as a major center for banking and financial services, health care, real estate, international trade with Latin America and the Caribbean, and culture and entertainment. Although it is known as the "Magic City," Miami is also a hotbed for insurance fraud: the city consistently ranks in the top two areas of Florida known for automobile insurance fraud, especially in personal injury protection (PIP).

Conroy Simberg's Miami office is uniquely situated to counsel and defend clients operating across all industries, including tourism, hospitality, banking, retail, construction and real estate. We offer a complete range of legal services to insurance companies, self-insured organizations, businesses and professionals. Our highly skilled attorneys draw upon their vast experiences and legal backgrounds to resolve complex and challenging legal issues for clients in the Miami area and throughout Florida.
