Aaron B. Zeilberger is a member of the firm's General Liability practice defending a broad range of insurance defense cases ranging from automobile accidents, negligent security, and premises liability. He joined Conroy Simberg after five years as an assistant public defender at the Office of the Public Defender for the Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida, where he represented individuals accused of crimes, ranging from Possession of Cannabis to Attempted First Degree Murder. After earning a Bachelor's degree in Economics and Political Science from the University of Florida, Aaron then attended the University of Florida Levin College of Law, where he obtained his Juris Doctor. While in law school, Aaron earned the book award for the highest grades in Prosecutorial Ethics and Interviewing Counseling and Negotiation. He currently serves in the Law Student Mentoring Program and volunteers his time with high school mock trial tournaments.
