

Financial Institutions

Experienced Financial Institution Defense

The attorneys at Conroy Simberg have decades of experience representing banking, lending and financial institutions in complex banking and lender liability litigation. With 11 offices strategically located in Florida and Georgia, our firm has the skills and resources necessary to successfully defend members of the financial services industry against complex legal claims.

The lawyers in our financial institutions practice are skilled litigators with years of experience representing clients in federal and state courts, including the U.S. bankruptcy courts, as well as in state and federal administrative proceedings. Our legal team counsels and defends local and regional financial institutions, including officers, directors, and employees facing a variety of civil claims, including defending:

- Lender liability
- Adversary Proceedings
- Fraudulent Transfers
- Wrongful Foreclosures
- Fraud
- Conspiracy
- Negligence and financial mismanagement
- Disclosure Issues

Limiting Exposure

At Conroy Simberg we understand that banking operations and lender liability suits not only threaten our clients' finances and operations, but they can also seriously damage their reputations within the community. When handling these types of claims, our legal professionals strive to resolve disputes as quickly as possible, limiting exposure and containing the costs associated with these kinds of actions. The attorneys in our financial institutions practice know that a successful defense requires a keen awareness of how financial institutions operate and a thorough understanding of the complex laws and regulations governing the financial services industry.

We are in the business of developing innovative strategies and solutions that resolve claims efficiently and economically. Our attorneys concentrate on avoiding lengthy trials by negotiating settlements whenever possible. We also have extensive experience settling cases through mediation and arbitration. When a claim cannot be resolved using these methods, the attorneys in our financial institutions practice vigorously defend our clients at all stages of the litigation process.

Serving the Financial Industry

Conroy Simberg has developed a strong reputation for providing highly skilled, cost-effective legal services to members of the financial services industry. From the initial claim through the ultimate resolution of a case, we keep in constant communication with our clients and regularly provide them with status reports and the information they need to make critical decisions in their cases.

Delivering Comprehensive Legal Services

Since our inception in 1979, Conroy Simberg has emerged as a leading full-service civil defense firm with approximately 150 attorneys working throughout the major cities of Florida. Our legal professionals work as a cohesive team across our firm's diverse practice areas and office locations. They routinely pool resources and collaborate on cases to formulate legal strategies and solutions that best serve our clients' needs, goals and objectives. Keeping abreast of legal trends and emerging issues affecting banking, lending and financial institutions is critical to providing this high level of support. This depth of experience positions our firm to effectively defend against the wide range of banking and lender liability claims facing members of the financial services industry.