Experienced Medical Malpractice Defense Attorneys

Conroy Simberg is a premier civil defense firm with offices strategically located in Florida and Georgia. Our medical malpractice defense attorneys have decades of experience representing clients facing complex medical malpractice claims. The legal professionals at our firm have an extensive understanding of the health care industry and are able to quickly identify, evaluate and respond to the legal and medical issues that typically arise in medical malpractice litigation.

Mounting an Aggressive Defense Against Malpractice Claims

Our firm uses a state-wide practice group format to deliver consistent and successful legal representation to clients located throughout the southeast. Through an experienced legal team of partners, associates, nurses and paralegals, we defend clients facing all types of liability claims that may arise within the health care setting. These legal professionals collaborate across our firm's 11 office locations to advise and represent all types of health care professionals and health care facilities, including:

- Hospitals and Health Care Systems, including Specialty Hospitals
- Nursing Homes
- Mental Health Facilities
- Assisted Living Facilities
- Adult Retirement Communities
- Physicians
- Psychiatrists
- Psychologists
- Pharmacists
- Nurses and Nurse Practitioners
- Allied Health Professionals
- Podiatrists
- Optometrists
- Dentists

Many of our medical malpractice attorneys have extensive backgrounds within the health care industry and are actively involved in legal, medical and insurance industry organizations, including the American Society for Healthcare Risk Management and the International Association of Defense Counsel. Our firm has also established a staff of full-time nurse paralegals to assist our attorneys in analyzing and evaluating complex clinical records.

The medical malpractice group at Conroy Simberg has significant experience advising and counseling health care facilities on the disclosure of adverse medical incident reports under Florida's Amendment 7, the Patient's Right to Know About Adverse Medical Incidents, and Code 15 regulations.

Our attorneys also defend professionals that fall outside of the scope of Florida's Medical Malpractice Act, including audiologists and massage therapists. Additionally, our legal professionals are experienced in representing healthcare providers in state licensing issues and disciplinary matters relative to their practices.

Protecting Reputations and Careers

The attorneys at Conroy Simberg know that medical malpractice claims can seriously impact a health care provider's reputation and career. Our legal team is sensitive to the needs and concerns of our clients and our lawyers are committed to providing personalized service and attention throughout all stages of every case. We take the time to respond to our clients' questions and strive to keep them apprised of all developments in their case.

While our firm attempts to negotiate and settle cases as early on as possible, our skilled litigators represent clients in mediation and arbitration proceedings and vigorously defend against medical malpractice claims at all stages of the litigation process, including appeals. At Conroy Simberg, our attorneys know that the best approach to defending a medical malpractice claim involves working with our clients to fully investigate and evaluate the case in order to develop winning strategies and solutions that best meet their professional, financial and business objectives.
